For the longest time, Mary and I – a 37 years old businessman- had dream of sailing explorer. For the past 16 years we had spent all our leisure time travelling in British water. Our boat Wavewalker, and a 23 metre, 30 ton wooden-framed beauty. We had spent months fitting it out and testing it in the roughest weather. The first leg of our planned three year, 1,05,000 kilometre journey passed pleasantly. We sailed down the west coast of Africa to Cape Town. There, before heading east, we took on two crewmen - American Larry Vigil and Swiss Herb Seigler - to help us tackle one of the world's roughest seas, the southern Indian Ocean. On our second day out of Cape town, we began to encounter strong gales. The size of the waves was alarming - up to 15 meters, as our main mast.
